BETONIQ WEST LTD: Building Structured Capital Access

- 1.4 billion adults remain unbanked globally, 38 million in Nigeria alone — the founding insight behind BETONIQ WEST LTD's mission to build structured financial access where none exists.
- That mission now spans three platforms: ZerôPâÿ Money (offline digital payments), BETONIQ INVEST (real estate development financing), and CineLink (film & drama production financing).
- Each platform applies the same core idea to a different underfunded market: give a real asset — a payment, a building, a film — a transparent, evidence-based score, then match it to the capital that actually fits.
- CineLink is the newest platform, applying this approach to a creative economy worth over $170 billion globally that remains almost entirely self-funded.

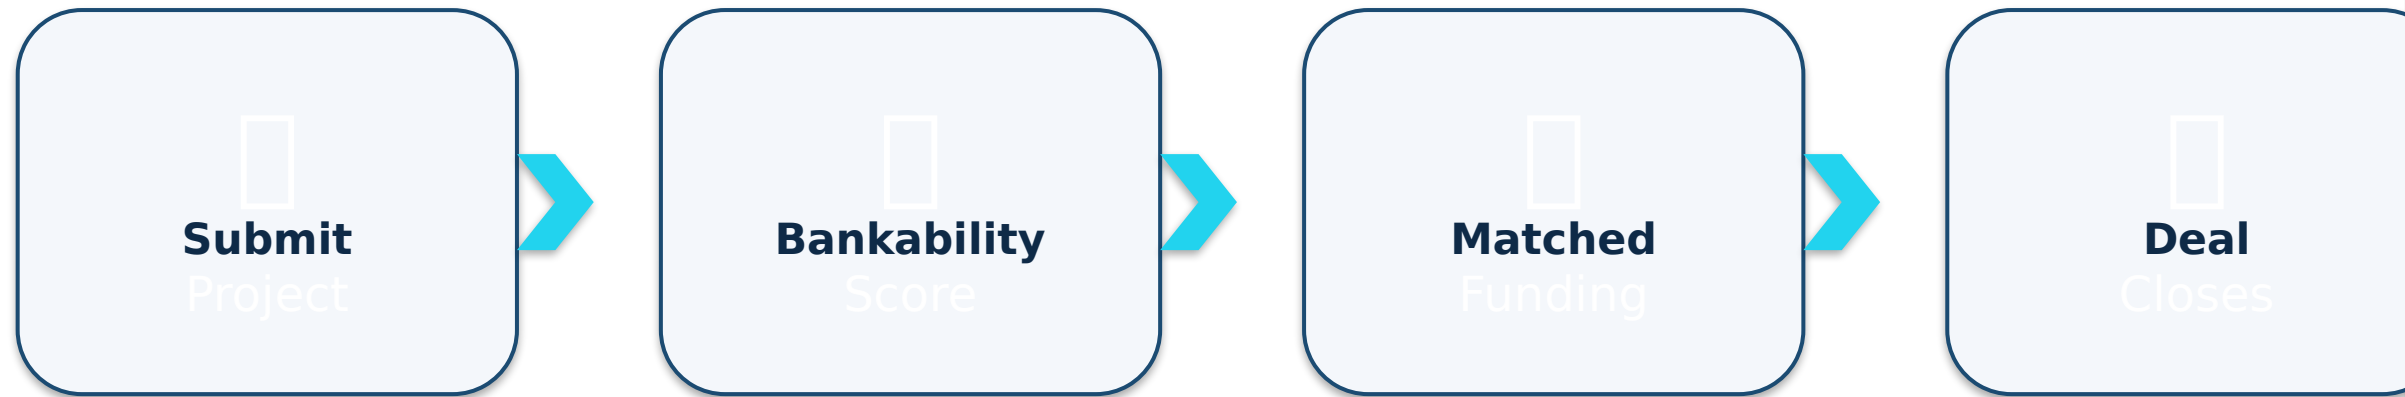

The Problem: A Structural Financing Gap

- Nollywood generates an estimated $6.4 billion a year and is Nigeria's second-largest employer after agriculture — yet almost none of that output is institutionally financed.
- Producers have no standard way to present a project's fundability — every pitch starts from zero.
- Financiers, tax-credit bodies, and streaming platforms have no efficient way to discover vetted, bankable projects — deal flow is relationship-dependent and slow.
- Real financing models exist (tax credits, pre-sales, gap financing, co-production, crowdfunding) but are fragmented across dozens of institutions with no single point of comparison.

The CineLink Solution

- Submit a project once — budget, genre, format, team, script status, target market.
- Get an instant Bankability Score (0-100): script readiness + team track record + budget realism + market/distribution potential.
- Get matched automatically to the funding models that fit, plus a named shortlist of real financiers, tax-credit schemes, and grant-makers for that market.
- Manage the whole pipeline as a business — verified badge, investor pitch pages, contract templates, warm introductions.

How It Works

Real Funding Models, Matched Automatically

- Tax-Credit Financing — UK Film Tax Relief, Nigeria incentive schemes, Canada/Ireland credits.
- Equity Co-Production — treaty and non-treaty co-production partnerships.
- Streaming Platform Pre-Sale / Originals — Netflix, Amazon Studios, MultiChoice/Showmax, EbonyLife.
- Gap Financing, Distributor Pre-Sale Advances, Brand & Sponsorship Integration, Crowdfunding.
- Named real sources by market: Nigeria NFVCB Film Fund, Realness Institute, Sundance Institute, Doha Film Institute, Eurimages, British Film Institute, Ford Foundation JustFilms.

Business Model

Assumptions: Success fee applies only to capital actually raised through a deal closed via CineLink — never upfront, never on independently-raised capital.

Market Opportunity

- Global film & TV production market: over $170 billion annually.
- Nollywood alone: an estimated $6.4 billion annually, Nigeria's 2nd-largest employer after agriculture.
- Global film financing gap: estimated in the tens of billions annually, concentrated in emerging markets.
- Beachhead: Nollywood & West African screen industry → global independent film & stage-drama market.

Roadmap

- Phase 1 (Months 1-3): Public beta of Bankability Score engine & funding directory across Nigeria/West Africa; onboard first Studio-tier cohort.
